

The Revenge Guy's

Bill of Rights

I have the right to:

Be treated like an equal, not as an animal;

My personal pursuit of happiness, without the concern of you infringing on that right;

My personal private property and the fact that you will respect those boundaries and not attempt to take, steal, misappropriate, vandalize or otherwise infringe on my use of my personal belongings;

My personal well being, emotions and intellect;

Be self-satisfied, which gives me the strength to fight back against any and all that abuse or disrespect any of the aforementioned rights.
